Dear respected fellow researchers,

On behalf of iCOMERA 2020 committee we are thankful for your participation in iCOMERA 2020 and we welcome you to the conference. The next process of our conference is preparation of presentation.

In this iCOMERA 2020, there are two methods of presentation provided with following guidance:

1. Asynchronous method
 - Presentation is maximum 10 minutes without any discussion
 - Authors are free to use any video maker software, e.g. Bandicam, OBS or Power point.
 - Video size is limited to 100 MB and for best results
 - It is encouraged to record the presenter face and laid at the right-bottom corner of presentation (an example is in this picture below)
 - The video of your asynchronous presentation can be sent to our dedicated email address: icomeravideo@gmail.com with title of email: Asynchronous "Title of paper", for example: Asynchronous "Simulation for crash box"
 - The video should be sent prior to September 15, 2020. In case no video is sent before September 15, 2020; the committee preserves the right to assume that the presentation will be in synchronous method.
2. Synchronous (live presentation) method
 - Presentation is maximum 10 minutes and then continued with discussion maximum 10 minutes
 - This synchronous presentation is via ZOOM.
 - Please ensure that conference participation has good internet connection during live presentation
 - The conference staff assigned to the session room will guide you for the presentation

The committee has awards and certificates to the most outstanding presentations of the conference. The power point template for both methods is available in the attachment of this email. The IOP publisher entailed that only paper with presentation, either synchronous or asynchronous method, can be published in the proceeding. The committee also preserves the copyright of video presentation as conference documentation.
