Dear Dr. Sahputra,

We are pleased to inform you that your manuscript, "Temperature and Indenter Radius Effects on Mechanical Properties of Copper during Nanoindentation: A Molecular Dynamic Simulation Study", has been accepted for publication in The European Physical Journal B.

You will receive an e-mail in due course regarding the production process.

You have the possibility to suggest a nice figure related to the content of your manuscript (but not necessarily one of the figures of the manuscript) as a candidate for the cover. This would give additional visibility to your article.

When you submit your cover image proposal, we ask you to clearly label the file as "cover_proposal_name" and submit your cover image (for which you have the copyright and provide us with permission to use in this capacity) and caption, within one week after acceptance of your article.

Please note that the Editors-in-Chief will have the final say over the choice of image selected to appear on the printed cover of the journal, should they receive more than one cover image proposal from the authors of the issue that will be featuring your work. The Editors-in-Chief will look at both the image appearance (nice colour, design, etc...) and the significance of the results presented there.

Please send your proposal to Sandrine Karpe at epjb@edpsciences.org.

Please remember to quote the manuscript number, EPJB-D-21-00507R1, whenever inquiring about your manuscript.

With kind regards,
Riccardo Rurali
